••• THE FOUNDER'S IDEAL •••

“It is my conviction that the well-being of any country depends much upon the culture of her women, and I have done what I could to found a college that would provide for women thorough and liberal education, so that for them the highest motives may become clear purposes and fixed habits of life; and I desire that the instruction and influence of Converse College be always such that the students may be enabled to see clearly, decide wisely, and to act justly; and that they may learn to love God and humanity, and be faithful to truth and duty, so that their influence may be characterized by purity and power.

It is also my desire and hope that Converse College be always truly religious, but never denominational. I believe that religion is essential to all that is purest and best in life, here and hereafter. I wish the College to be really, but liberally and tolerantly, Christian; for I believe that the revelation of God in Christ is for salvation; and I commend and commit the College to the love and guidance of God, and to the care, sympathy, and fidelity of my fellow men.”

—Dexter Edgar Converse

••• CORE VALUES •••

The Converse University commitment to creativity and the development of adaptable individuals with clear vision, wise decision and just action is guided by seven core values. These enduring beliefs serve as the compass for the University. They transcend time, extend across the institution and guide our actions and decisions.

EXCELLENCE drives us to achieve the best in all that we pursue; to develop competence, confidence and courage to realize full potential in mind, body and spirit.

INTEGRITY calls us to cultivate and exercise honor, character and vision in daily decisions and actions; to act honestly and justly when confronted with ethical dilemmas and life's challenges.

EXPLORATION compels us to think critically and creatively in the acquisition of knowledge and skills; to discover and enrich scholarship and research, disciplines, methods and vocations through hands-on learning and leadership and through discovery, discourse and debate.

DIVERSITY inspires us to embrace the different perspectives, experiences, cultures, backgrounds, talents and contributions that comprise a global society; to enhance and expand inclusivity as we build a stronger multidimensional community.

RESPECT leads us to value self and others, recognizing the legitimacy of individuality in belief, expression and perspective; to exercise civility, mindfulness and responsibility in words and actions.

COMMUNITY motivates us to develop a dynamic network of relationships through a balance of work and play that nurtures the abilities of each member in order to establish a better whole; to mentor, collaborate and communicate as engaged citizens who effect positive change.

PROGRESS challenges us to think strategically toward the future by employing creativity, adaptability, ingenuity and innovation; to advance and transform the world around us.

Elford C. Morgan Award

Named for Elford C. Morgan, who served Converse from 1932 to 1959 as a professor of English and dean of administration, the award is given to the senior with the highest GPA for a student majoring in the traditional arts and sciences.

Sullivan Community Award

Each year, Converse presents the Sullivan Community Award to a member of the greater Spartanburg community, recognizing unselfish service, dedication to sharing with others, and humane participation in the life of their community. The service of the Algernon Sydney or Mary Mildred Sullivan Community Award recipient makes them an example to all of us at Converse, one to whom we look for inspiration.

Kathryne Amelia Brown Award

The Kathryne Amelia Brown Award was established at Converse by the late Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Brown of Ozark, Alabama, in memory of their daughter, a member of the class of 1970, to recognize faculty members who have excelled in the classroom.

Lovett Promising School Leader Award

The Lovett Promising School Leader Award was established in 2014 with the financial support of former Dean of the School of Education and Graduate Studies, Dr. Martha T. Lovett, who served Converse from 1986 to 2002. This award is given annually to a graduate student completing a degree in school administration.

Nancy Breard Award

Named in honor of Dr. Nancy Breard, who was a faculty member at Converse from 1989 to 2012, this award was established in 2023 to recognize outstanding teaching and service to Graduate Education at Converse University.

Doctoral Hoods

The doctoral hood signifies a student's success in completing the graduate program. Converse University hosts a Hooding Ceremony each year prior to commencement as special recognition for doctoral degree candidates.

… TRADITIONS AND SYMBOLS …

The Converse Mace

The Converse Mace represents the governing authority of Converse and the link between the president and the faculty. The mace precedes the faculty in the procession and is carried by a senior faculty member. Crafted of bronze and purple heart wood, the mace includes 12 spiral elements that bear the names of the academic departments. While not in procession, the mace rests on a stand adorned with the Converse seal and the Founder's Ideal to "See Clearly, Decide Wisely, Act Justly." The stand and spiral elements of the mace are made of reclaimed architectural millwork from Wilson Hall's original construction.

The President's Medallion

Adorning the academic regalia of the Converse president is a medallion and chain designed and handmade by Mary Helen Garrison Dalton '46 in 2004. President Boone J. Hopkins is the fourth president to wear the medallion, which incorporates cabochon amethyst and cabochon citrine with gold and silver links that bear the engraved names of each Converse president. Each presidential link within the chain symbolizes the strength of leadership that has sustained Converse throughout history and will continue to propel us forward.

The Converse Way

Inspired by the Founder's Ideal, The Converse Way is a pathway and tradition grounded in the core values of our beloved institution. The Converse Way is the walk made from Twichell Auditorium to the front academic quad on Opening Convocation, Founders' Day and Commencement. Weaving through The Johnson Plaza, it is symbolic of the path taken by our Founders to establish this distinctive college experience – calling for those who believe in Converse to contribute, always, to its well-being.

The Converse Legacy Club

The Converse Legacy Club is an esteemed group of graduates with a family Converse legacy. Graduates whose parent, grandparent or great-grandparent, aunt or uncle, or sibling attended Converse are considered a Converse legacy. The Legacy Club plays a part in the University's rich history and we honor these legacies recognizing this special bond.

… ACADEMIC REGALIA …

The pageantry and color of academic costume dates back to medieval university practices. Originally adapted from ecclesiastical vestments and later influenced by the guilds of craftsmen, caps, gowns, and hoods were standard items of men's clothing in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, practical in the warmth they provided in cold, drafty halls. Today, academic apparel in America is regulated by the United States Intercollegiate Code of Academic Dress, a system first adopted in 1885.

Each piece of the formal ensemble is symbolic of the wearer's academic achievements and rank. From the beginning, most academic robes were black to symbolize the democracy of scholarship, as they cover any dress or other earmark of social standing. The style and cut of the gown indicate the wearer's highest degree. Bachelors' plain gowns are cut with long, pointed sleeves, while masters' robes feature closed slit sleeves. Doctors' full-cut gowns are distinguished by double-belled sleeves and velvet bar trimmings. Some universities commission doctoral gowns in a representative color other than black to match their institution's colors.

Hoods, initially designed to be close-fitting around the face, are now elongated and lined with the official color or colors of the college or university which granted the degree. Converse University's hood is lined in purple with gold chevrons. The bordering color, as well as other gown trimmings and cap tassels, indicates the subject in which the degree was earned. The black mortar board cap with tassel is standard wear for all ranks, although soft square topped caps are permissible for women. Gold tassels indicate doctoral degree holders.

Faculties represented in today's processional include:

Arts, Letters, Humanities | White
Commerce, Accountancy, Business | Drab
Economics | Copper
Education | Light Blue
Fine Arts, including Architecture | Brown
Journalism | Crimson
Law | Purple
Library Science | Lemon
Music | Pink
Philosophy | Dark Blue
Physical Education | Sage Green
Science | Yellow
Social Science | Cream
Theology | Scarlet

As traditions surrounding regalia are changing, degree granting institutions now have the option to hood candidates using school colors. Converse doctoral students voted to have purple hoods.

ALMA MATER

Standing with open arms

Standing alone

Watching her children down through the years,

Watching and keeping them safe from harm,

Hearing their laughter and seeing their tears.

Converse! Converse!

We pledge our love to thee.

We'll hail the purple and the gold

With love and loyalty.

Alma Mater, dear to everyone,

We love you now, we'll love you when

Our college days are done.
